The West and China in Africa Alemayehu Mekonnen, 2015-11-13 The West and China in Africa Civilization without Justice is an outcome of Dr Alemayehu Mekonnen's personal intellectual struggle life experience and an attempt to understand Christ and his message within the cultural context of Africa The intellectual struggle has to do with the paradoxical reality of Africa's situation An attempt to reconcile the seemingly irreconcilable situation of Africa tests and stretches anyone's mind beyond limit According to archaeological and geological findings Africa is the first habitat of humanity and yet it is the least habitable place in the world today The continent is extremely rich with natural resources but it is known for poverty disease malnutrition and starvation As some Afro centric scholars argue Africa is the birthplace of world civilization and yet it is known for destruction Social instability is rampant coup d'etat and counter coup d'etat is common Displacement and the number of refugees are ever increasing As a person of African origin and now a US citizen Mekonnen was able to see realities objectively in the eyes of an African and American This book explores the myth and reality of Western Eastern and African dictators role in the history of Africa

Chinese Energy Futures and Their Implications for the United States

George G. Eberling, 2011-11-16 China's rise in the global arena is undeniably altering the global status quo Its rise is closely linked to and reflected in its rising dependence on imported oil adroit soft power economic prowess and corresponding impressive economic growth its military modernization and its strategic engagement of the world as an alternative model of political and economic development As the status quo changes the United States theoretically becomes less influential politically economically and militarily because China is skillfully harnessing and strategically exercising the elements of national power to acquire scarce oil energy resources in the Near East Western Hemisphere and Sub Saharan Africa Chinese Energy Futures and Their Implications for the United States by George Eberling examines how Chinese oil energy specifically will shape future Sino American relations under conditions of dependency and non dependency and whether competition or cooperation for scarce energy resources will result Eberling uses both scenario analysis and the PRINCE method to examine three possible Chinese oil energy futures Competitive Dependency Competitive Surplus and Cooperative Surplus Chinese Energy Futures also discusses and evaluates the strategic implications of these scenarios with respect to the United States

China's Foreign Policy and Practice Wenguang Shao, 2022-12-21 This book is one of the first wide ranging surveys of China's foreign policy and practice from the 16th century to the present day from a Chinese perspective. A modern history of China's interaction with major powers it throws new light on the events and issues of major interest, clarifies possible points of ambiguity and misunderstanding and brings the reader up to date about some of the current issues of contention in China's international relations. China Foreign Policy and Practice Presents a unique account of Chinese statecraft and foreign policy from the vantage point of an insider who has spent years participating in the decisionmaking process at the national level. Paints a larger picture of China's interaction with the world: connecting wars, negotiations, treaties and boundary settlements with its neighbours. Focuses on policy evolution in specific areas such as trade, regional diplomacy, dispute settlement, crisis management and engagement with major powers. Draws on Chinese records and publications that may not be readily accessible as well as the latest memoirs and declassified documents. Is a nuanced, comprehensive and accessible guide for students of international politics as well as general readers interested in China. A unique history of China in world affairs; this book will be essential reading for students of politics and international relations. China: foreign policy, diplomacy, China studies and Asian studies

Chinese Engagement in Africa Larry Hanauer, Lyle J. Morris, 2014-03-12. Examines Chinese engagement with African nations focusing on: 1. Chinese and African objectives in the political and economic spheres and how they work to achieve them; 2. African perceptions of Chinese engagement; 3. how China has adjusted its policies to accommodate African views; and 4. whether the United States and China are competing for influence, access and resources in Africa and how they might cooperate in the region.

Future Oil Demands of China, India, and Japan George G. Eberling, 2014-07-02. Future Oil Demands of China, India and Japan examines how Chinese oil energy will likely shape future Sino-Indian and Sino-Japanese relations under conditions of dependency and non-dependency and whether competition or cooperation for scarce energy resources will result. The author lists and describes three possible Chinese oil energy futures or scenarios: Competitive Dependency, Competitive Surplus and Cooperative Surplus, using Scenario Analysis and the PRINCE Method to subsequently estimate their associated likelihoods. Further, this book discusses and evaluates their strategic implications for India and Japan and estimates the most likely oil energy future. This book argues that China's rising dependence on imported oil along with its adroit use of soft power, economic prowess, strategic engagement of the world as an alternative model of political and economic development, military modernization and rapid economic growth can only mean that it will alter the global status quo and become the dominant actor in world affairs in the near future. India and Japan will be less influential economically because China is skillfully harnessing and strategically exercising the elements of national power: diplomatic, informational, military and economic to acquire scarce oil energy resources in the Near East, Western Hemisphere and Sub-Saharan Africa.

China: the New Imperialists & Neo-Colonialists in Africa? Kwame A. Insaioo, 2016-04-21. Chinese generally look condescendingly on the humanity of black Africans but over the past decades there have been a huge influx of Chinese on the African continent. What is driving the Chinese to the African continent Are the Chinese in Africa to help Africa develop in their so called win win or south south development method Or are the Chinese in Africa to exploit the huge super abundant raw materials and mineral resources to fuel their expanding industries It is true that the Chinese are currently building monumental stadiums presidential palaces conference halls but as much as Africans are grateful for these they do not represent economic progress for Africa What we see though is Chinese offering huge loans to African nations in return for their raw materials Ironically most of the loans end up in the hands of Chinese contractors undertaking the construction projects Chinese labor working in the projects and Chinese materials and products used in the projects In the end African governments are left holding the bag of huge repayments back to China Moreover some if not many of the infrastructure are often shoddy as the case of Angolan hospital and many roads in Africa have demonstrated Additionally Chinese also support African dictators like Mugabe of Zimbabwe Omar Bashir of Sudan Santos of Angola and many others with deadly weaponry to oppress African citizens Finally the Beijing Consensus though has helped lift many Chinese out of poverty cannot be replicated in Africa because of its authoritarian nature

Chinese Investment in Africa David N. Abdulai, 2016-11-03 China leads the world when it comes to investment and influence on the African continent The extent of Chinese investment in Africa is well known and much has been written about China's foray into Africa However most of the available material has approached this issue by looking at China as the New Colonialist more interested in Africa's vast natural resources than working in partnership for sustained development Whilst China's interest in Africa's resources is evident it is just half of the story China's foray into Africa goes beyond its appetite for natural resources and into the realm of geo politics and international political economics For example China is all too aware of how it can cultivate Africa's support on global issues at the United Nations and at other international fora Breaking free from the binary arguments and analysis which characterize this topic Professor Abdulai presents a refreshing perspective that China's foray into Africa can produce win win outcomes for China and Africa if Africans really know what they want from China Hitherto each African country has tended to engage China with an individual bucket list acting in isolation and not as part of a wider continent indeed Africa and the African Union does not yet have a coordinated policy towards China For Africa to be able to do that it needs to know where China is coming from the factors that contributed to its awakening and success and the benefits and possible pitfalls of this foray in order to better position itself for a win win engagement with China This book will be a valuable read for policy makers think tanks and students of Africa China studies programmes alike

Globalization from Below Gordon Mathews, Gustavo Lins Ribeiro, Carlos Alba Vega, 2012-08-21 This book explores globalization as actually experienced by most of the world's people buying goods from street vendors brought by traders moving past borders and across continents under the radar of the law The dimensions and practices of globalization from below are depicted and analyzed in detail by a team of international scholars Topics covered include the New Silk Road African traders in China street hawking in Calcutta and pirate CDs in Mexico The chapters provide intimate portrayals of routes markets and people in locations across the globe and explore theories that can help make sense of these complex and fascinating case studies Students of globalization economic anthropology and developing world economics will find the book invaluable
