Chinas Emerging Middle Class Beyond Economic Transformation:

China's Emerging Middle Class Cheng Li, 2010-11-15 Decades ago there was no distinct middle class in the People's Republic of China. Any meaningful discussion of China's economy, politics or society must take into account the rapid emergence and explosive growth of the Chinese middle class. This book details the origins and characteristics of this dramatic change.

China's Emerging Middle Class Cheng Li, 2010-10-01 The rapid emergence and explosive growth of China's middle class have enormous consequences for that nation's domestic future, for the global economy and for the whole world. In China's Emerging Middle Class, noted scholar Cheng Li and a team of experts focus on the sociopolitical ramifications of the birth and growth of the Chinese middle class over the past two decades. The contributors, from diverse disciplines and different regions, examine the development and evolution of China's middle class from a variety of analytical perspectives. What is its educational and occupational makeup? Are its members united by a common identity, by a shared political vision and worldview? How does the Chinese middle class compare with its counterparts in other countries? The contributors shed light on these and many other issues pertaining to the rapid rise of the middle class in the Middle Kingdom. Contributors: Jie Chen, Old Dominion University; Deborah Davis, Yale University; Bruce J. Dickson, George Washington University; Geoffrey Gertz, Brookings; Han Sang Jin, Seoul National University; Hsin Huang, Michael Hsiao, National Taiwan University; Homi Kharas, Brookings; Li Chunling, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences; Jing Lin, University of Maryland College Park; Sida Liu, University of Wisconsin-Madison; Lu Hanlong, Shanghai Academy of Social Sciences; Joyce Yanyun Man, Peking University; Lincoln Center; Ethan Michelson, Indiana University Bloomington; Qin Chen, Hohai University; Xiaoyan Sun, Beijing Foreign Studies University; Luigi Tomba, Australian National University; Jianying Wang, Yale University; and Zhou Xiaohong, Nanjing University.

Education, Migration and Family Relations Between China and the UK Mengwei Tu, 2018-07-18 This book provides a fresh perspective on the understanding of transnational families by examining the one-child generation of Chinese migrants who came to the UK to study and their parents who remain in China.

Being Middle Class in China Ying Miao, 2016-11-25 Many studies of the Chinese middle class focus on defining it and viewing its significance for economic development and its potential for sociopolitical modernisation. This book goes beyond such objective approaches and considers middle-class people's subjective understanding and diverse experiences of class. Based on extensive original research, including social surveys and detailed interviews, the book explores what the middle class think they are, what they think about a wide range of socioeconomic and sociopolitical issues, and why they think as they do. It examines attitudes towards the welfare state, social inequality, nationalism, relations with foreign countries, and opinions on many social controversies, thereby portraying middle-class people as more than simply luxury consumers and potential agents of democracy. The book concludes that a clear class identity and political consciousness have yet to emerge, but that middle-class attitudes are best characterised as searching for a balance between old and new, the traditional and the foreign, the principled and the pragmatic.

The Making of the Chinese Middle Class Jean-Louis Rocca, 2016-11-07 This book analyses the making of the Chinese middle class that started in the 1990s using a constructivist approach With the development of the Chinese economy a new group of middle wage earners appeared Chinese social scientists and state institutions promoted the idea that China needs a middle class to achieve modernization Middle class members are defined and define themselves as good consumers educated people politically engaged but reasonable citizens As such the making of the middle class is the result of three convergent phenomena an attempt to define the middle class a process of civilization and the development of protest movements The making of the Chinese middle class Rocca argues is a way to end the stalemate that modern Chinese society is facing in particular the necessity to democratize without introducing an election system

Sport, Migration, and Gender in the Neoliberal Age Niko Besnier, Domenica Gisella Calabrò, Daniel Guinness, 2020-10-25 This ethnographic collection explores how neoliberalism has permeated the bodies subjectivities and gender of youth around the world as global sport industries have expanded their reach into marginal areas luring young athletes with the dream of pursuing athletic careers in professional leagues of the Global North Neoliberalism has reconfigured sport since the 1980s as sport clubs and federations have become for profit businesses in conjunction with television and corporate sponsors Neoliberal sport has had other important effects which are rarely the object of attention as the national economies of the Global South and local economies of marginal areas of the Global North have collapsed under pressure from global capital many young people dream of pursuing a sport career as an escape from poverty But this elusive future is often located elsewhere initially in regional centres though ultimately in the wealthy centres of the Global North that can support a sport infrastructure The pursuit of this future has transformed kinship relations gender relations and the subjectivities of people This collection of rich ethnographies from diverse regions of the world from Ghana to Finland and from China to Fiji pulls the reader into the lives of men and women in the global sport industries including aspiring athletes their families and the agents coaches and academy directors shaping athletes dreams It demonstrates that the ideals of neoliberalism spread in surprising ways intermingling with categories like gender religion indigeneity and kinship Athletes migrations provide a novel angle on the global workings of neoliberalism This book will be of key interest to scholars in Gender Studies Anthropology Sport Studies and Migration Studies

Urban Mobilizations and New Media in Contemporary China Lisheng Dong, Hanspeter Kriesi, 2016-03-09 Popular protests are on the rise in China However since protesters rely on existing channels of participation and on patronage by elite backers the state has been able to stymie attempts to generalize resistance and no large scale political movements have significantly challenged party rule Yet the Chinese state is not monolithic Decentralization has increased the power of local authorities creating space for policy innovations and opening up the political opportunity structure Popular protest in China particularly in urban realm not only benefits from the political fragmentation of the state but also from the political communications revolution The question of how and to what extent the internet can be used for mobilizing popular resistance in China is hotly debated The government virtual social organizations and individual netizens both cooperate and compete with each other on the web New media both increases the scope of the mobilizers and the mobilized thereby creating new social capital and provides the government with new means of social control thereby limiting the political impact of the growing social capital This volume is the first of its kind to assess the ways new media influence the mobilization of popular resistance and its possible effects in China today Dreams of Flight

Fran Martin, 2011-11-08 In Dreams of Flight Fran Martin explores how young Chinese women negotiate competing pressures on their identity while studying abroad On one hand unmarried middle class women in the single child generations are encouraged to develop themselves as professional human capital through international education molding themselves into independent cosmopolitan career oriented individuals On the other strong neotraditionalist state social and familial pressures of the post Mao era push them back toward marriage and family by age thirty Martin examines these women's motivations for studying in Australia and traces their embodied and emotional experiences of urban life social media worlds work in low skilled and professional jobs romantic relationships religion Chinese patriotism and changed self understanding after study abroad Martin illustrates how emerging forms of gender class and mobility fundamentally transform the basis of identity for a whole generation of Chinese women The Middle Class in Emerging Societies Leslie L. Marsh, Hongmei Li, 2015-10-23

This volume examines the discursive construction of the meanings and lifestyle practices of the middle class in the rapidly transforming economies of Asia Latin America Africa and the Middle East focusing on the social political and cultural implications at local and global levels While drawing a comparative analysis of what it means to be middle class in these different locations the essays offer a connective understanding of the middle class phenomenon in emerging market economies and lay the groundwork for future research on emerging transitional societies The book addresses three key dimensions the discursive creation of the middle class the construction of the cultural identity through consumption practices and lifestyle choices and the social political and cultural consequences related to globalization and neoliberalism
