Chinese Walled Cities 221 Bc Ad 1644 Fortress:

Chinese Walled Cities 221 BC- AD 1644 Stephen Turnbull,2012-10-20 It has been said in China that a city without a wall would be as inconceivable as a house without a roof Even the smallest village invariably had some form of defensive wall while the Great Wall of China was an attempt to build a barrier along the most vulnerable border of the entire country Yet the finest examples of walled communities were China's walled cities whose defensive architecture surpassed anything along the Great Wall This book traces the evolution of the walled city from the 3 000 year old remains of the beaten earth walls of the Shang dynasty to the huge stone fortifications of the Ming dynasty Stephen Turnbull expert military historian reveals the defensive structures from all the major ancient Chinese cities and discusses how they protected entire communities and not just castle dwellers with colour artwork reconstructions maps and archive photographs French Fortresses in North America 1535-1763 René Chartrand,2013-03-20 Following Columbus discovery of America in 1492 European colonists brought their system of fortification to the New World in an attempt to ensure their safety and consolidate their conquests French and British explorers came later to North America and thus the establishment of their sizeable settlements only got under way during the 17th century The inhabitants of New France built elaborate fortifications to protect their towns and cities This book provides a detailed examination of the defenses of four of them Qu bec Montr al and Louisbourg in Canada and New Orleans in Louisiana Fortifications of the Western Front 1914-18 Paddy Griffith,2013-08-20 Following the early battles of 1914 along the Marne and in the Ypres salient World War I rapidly changed from a war of movement into one of attrition with the opposing sides entrenching themselves in a line of fortified positions from the Flanders coastline to the Swiss border This volume details the different styles of fortification used on the Western Front throughout the course of the war from the early ditches of 1914 to the complicated systems of 1918 It explains the development of the defence in depth German system and the British reaction to it as well as illustrating the importance of the pre war forts particularly around Verdun The Fortifications of Gibraltar 1068-1945 Darren Fa,Clive Finlayson,2013-09-20 Gibraltar located at the meeting points of Europe and Africa preserves within its fortifications a rich testament to human conflict spanning 600 years In 1068 the ruling Spanish Muslims built a large fort there Between 1309 and 1374 Gibraltar underwent a period of intensive building and fortification and following the Spanish reconquest of 1462 the inhabitants carried out further works In 1704 the latest uninterrupted period of British rule began The 18th century saw three sieges including the most severe known as the Great Siege which lasted from 1779 to 1783 During World War II the Rock served as a vital stop for supply convoys and naval staging base complete with a veritable warren of secret tunnels This book documents Gibraltar's rich history and charts the development of these fascinating fortifications D-Day Fortifications in Normandy Steven J. Zaloga,2013-05-20 German defenses along the Normandy beaches were part of the larger Atlantic Wall fortifications designed to defend Fortress Europe When Field Marshal Erwin Rommel took command of the invasion front in late 1943 he began a program to enhance fortifications along the Normandy coast as he believed that any Allied assault had to be stopped on the invasion beaches themselves His most important contribution to the defenses was an extensive program of improvised beach obstructions to complicate any landing attempt This book analyses these fortifications and describes how the Allied forces overcame them on the morning of June 6 1944

The Stalin and Molotov Lines Neil Short,2013-05-20 In the years following the Civil War plans were drawn up to build a major set of fortifications along the Russian western border Work began in 1926 leading to a front that stretched over 2 000km from the Baltic to the Black Sea By the time of the outbreak of World War II the defences of the Stalin Line as it was known were largely complete but were also now too far behind the new Soviet border to be of any use in potential offensives Stalin took steps to create a new defensive line inside Poland which came to be known by the name of the Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov This book details the development of these lines and the fighting that took place around them in 1941

English Civil War Fortifications 1642-51 Peter Harrington,2013-05-20 The techniques of European warfare were transformed during the 15th and 16th centuries by the use of gunpowder and by substantial progress in the effectiveness and destructive power of artillery The series of conflicts in the 1640s known collectively as the English Civil War was the first in the British Isles that reflected this new reality Sieges that aimed at isolating and reducing fortified places became the dominant instrument for prosecuting the war and protective fortifications were vital for both the besieged as well as the besieger This illustrated guide describes how both the Parliamentarians and the Royalists made use of new fortification techniques throughout the course of this conflict

The Forts of New France in Northeast America 1600-1763 René Chartrand,2013-03-20 New France consisted of the area colonized and ruled by France in North America This title takes a look at the lengthy chain of forts built by the French to guard the frontier in the American northeast including Sorel Chambly St Jean Carillon Ticonderoga Duquesne Pittsburgh PA and Vincennes These forts were of two types the major stone forts and other forts made of wood and earth all of which varied widely in style from Vauban type elements to cabins surrounded by a stockade Some forts such as Chambly looked more like medieval castles in their earliest incarnations Ren Chartrand examines the different types of forts built by the French describing the strategic vision that led to their construction their impact upon the British colonies and the Indian nations of the interior and the French military technology that went into their construction

The Mannerheim Line 1920-39 Bair Irincheev,2013-05-20 In the wake of the bloody civil war that followed Finland s independence from Russia in 1917 the border between the two countries was established across the Karelian Isthmus an area long fought over by Russia Finland and Sweden in their attempts to dominate the northern tip of Europe Neither the Soviets nor the Finnish were comfortable with such a divide which was only 32km from the military and industrial city of Petrograd As such both sides began an intensive period of fortification and defensive planning As the Winter War broke out in November 1939 the complex and heavily defended Mannerheim Line suffered intense bombardment The armistice of 1940 saw Finland cede control of the entire Karelian Isthmus to the USSR and a propaganda war ensued Through an analysis of the background and operational history of the Mannerheim Line Bair Irincheev attempts to dispel such myths and provide an accurate assessment of its huge historical importance The Channel Islands 1941-45 Charles Stephenson,2013-05-20 Following the fall of France and the surrender of Paris on 14 June 1940 the British Government announced that the Channel Islands had no strategic importance and would not be defended The Germans occupied the islands from the end of June onwards and remained in control until the end of the war On 10 October 1941 Hitler announced his intention to convert them into an impregnable fortress and the islands formed the most heavily fortified and defended section of the entire Atlantic Wall This book describes the design construction and manning of these defensive positions as well as considering more widely the occupation of the Channel Islands by the Germans
