Combat Survival Life Stories From A Purple Heart:

Combat Survival-Life Stories from a Purple Heart George P. Hutchings, 2005-10 Marine Sergeant George P. Hutchings landed in Vietnam in 1967. Fighting near the northern Province of Quan Tri, he was deployed on hundreds of combat missions, even the dreaded nighttime Scorpion maneuvers. A riveting survival story written in his matter-of-fact, no-frills style from his entire battalion being ambushed and nearly all killed in the jungles of Medina on October 12, 1967, to his mooning the North Vietnamese as they shelled him on his way to the outhouse, you will not put this book down. Operation Ford north of Phuoc Binh March 18, 1968. George was caught in crossfire and shot three times in the hip with an AK-47. Acting dead as a Vietcong stuck him with a bayonet. George shot him in the head. Medically evacuated, George was awarded the Purple Heart. Follow George's journey from a dysfunctional youth to seeing his friends blown to pieces in the muddy battlefields of Southeast Asia, to his difficult readjustment to civilian life. His heart bare, George shares how he fell in love and, after years of searching, discovered his purpose in life, which led him to his present-day international projects delivering much-needed medical supplies to countries in Africa. Perhaps his greatest survival skill is to never let situations get him demoralized.

Courage in Combat Richard J. Rinaldo, 2020-01-10 These stories of military heroism focusing on members of the Legion of Valor offer a sweeping study of courage in service to America. Published in conjunction with the Legion of Valor of the United States of America, Courage in Combat shares the stories of military heroes from the Civil War onward. They are recipients of the Medal of Honor, the Distinguished Service Cross, the Navy Cross, and the Air Force Cross. Their awards are our nation's highest military decorations given only to one in twenty thousand combatants. Among them are sergeants and generals as well as corpsmen, civilians, engineers, grunts, and paratroopers. There are men and women, a mess attendant, aviators, spies, and POWs, a cavalry scout, candidates for sainthood, and a president of the United States. The stories of these brave individuals relate personal accounts of heroism as well as reflections on combat and war. This book also includes a short history of the Legion of Valor, America's oldest military service organization, and an extensive list of its members past and present. Courage in Combat explores the concept of courage through the lives, thoughts, and actions of this elite group, most of whom would say, "I was just doing my job."

A Better Man Kelly H. Johnson, 2009 The journey from childhood to manhood is a difficult time in every boy's life, and never has this transition been more challenging than it is today. In addition to the trials of peer pressure, hormones, and popularity, young men must grapple with a culture that places enormous emphasis on physical appeal, material wealth, and celebrity status. Television, film, and video game heroes have become role models to a generation, and boys are hard-pressed to find reliable answers to the question of what it really means to be a man. Stepping in to help fill the void, A Better Man features interviews and first-person narratives from some of the most respected and engaging men in America today. With sincerity and humor, these surrogate fathers and grandfathers share their experience and advice on courage, service, anger, respect, and a host of other topics.
