Comunicación responsable Hugo Aznar, 1999 The European Handbook of Media Accountability Tobias Eberwein, Susanne Fengler, Matthias Karmasin, 2017-11-08 In recent years the Leveson Inquiry in Great Britain as well as the EU High Level Group on Media Freedom and Pluralism have stirred heated debates about media accountability and media self regulation across Europe How responsible are journalists How well developed are infrastructures of media self regulation in the different European countries How much commitment to media accountability is there in the media industry and how actively do media users become involved in the process of media criticism via social media With contributions from leading scholars in the field of journalism and mass communication this handbook brings together reports on the status quo of media accountability in all EU members states as well as key countries close to Europe such as Turkey and Israel Each chapter provides an up to date overview of media accountability structures as well as a synopsis of relevant research exploring the role of media accountability instruments in each national setting including both media self regulation such as codes of ethics press councils ombudspersons and new instruments that involve audiences and stakeholder groups such as media blogs and user comment systems A theoretically informed cross national comparative analysis of the state of media accountability in contemporary Europe this handbook constitutes an invaluable basis for further research and policy making and will appeal to students and scholars of media studies and journalism as well as policy makers and practitioners
