Democratic Peacebuilding Aiding Afghanistan And Other Fragile States:

Extralegal Groups in Post-Conflict Liberia Christine Cheng, 2018-05-10 In the aftermath of the Liberian civil war groups of ex combatants seized control of natural resource enclaves in the rubber diamond and timber sectors With some of them threatening a return to war these groups were widely viewed as the most significant threats to Liberia's hard won peace Building on fieldwork and socio historical analysis this book shows how extralegal groups are driven to provide basic governance goods in their bid to create a stable commercial environment This is a story about how their livelihood strategies merged with the opportunities of Liberia's post war political economy But it is also a context specific story that is rooted in the country's geography its history of state making and its social and political practices This volume demonstrates that extralegal groups do not emerge in a vacuum In areas of limited statehood where the state is weak and political authority is contested where rule of law is corrupted and government distrust runs deep extralegal groups can provide order and dispute resolution forming the basic kernel of the state This logic counters the prevailing spoiler narrative forcing us to reimagine non state actors and recast their roles as incidental statebuilders in the evolutionary process of state making This leads to a broader argument it is trade rather than war that drives contemporary statebuilding Along the way this book poses some uncomfortable questions about what it means to be legitimately governed whether our trust in states is ultimately misplaced whether entrenched corruption is the most likely post conflict outcome and whether our expectations of international peacebuilding and statebuilding are ultimately self defeating

United Nations Peacekeeping and the Politics of Authoritarianism Sarah von Billerbeck, Birte Julia Gippert, Kseniya Oksamytna, Oisín Tansey, 2025-01-11 What impact does UN peacekeeping have on the politics of authoritarianism in host countries This book advances a theoretically innovative and empirically rich answer to this question while the UN does not intentionally promote authoritarianism it faces a number of constraints and dilemmas that give rise to what we call authoritarian enabling Enabling can occur through two mechanisms capacity building and the creation of a permissive environment which enhance the ability of host governments to engage in authoritarian behavior and signal to them that doing so is low cost This book illustrates these two mechanisms with four in depth case studies of UN peacekeeping operations UNTAC in Cambodia MONUC MONUSCO in the Democratic Republic of Congo MINUSTAH in Haiti and UNMIL in Liberia The analysis is based on primary interview data from over 200 interviews The authors explore the sources of enabling identifying the trade offs and contradictions that give rise to these two mechanisms They include respect for sovereignty the importance of working relations with the host government the tension between democracy and other mission goals the pressure to demonstrate quick results and divergences within missions and the broader international community While enabling stops short of the outright promotion of authoritarianism it explains why the UN's activities often appear to contradict its stated objectives and the outcomes it delivers fall short of its goals In addition to its theoretical and empirical contributions the book suggests how these dilemmas and challenges can be overcome Challenges of Constructing Legitimacy in Peacebuilding Daisaku Higashi, 2015-02-20 Peacebuilding is a critical issue in world politics Surprisingly however there has not been a full examination of concrete policies and implementation strategies to generate legitimacy in host states by either international relations IR theorists or practitioners The objective of this book is to develop an understanding of the mechanisms for constructing or eroding the legitimacy of newly created governments in post conflict peacebuilding environments The book argues that although existing accounts in the literature contend that compliance with key political programs and constructing legitimacy in peacebuilding largely depend on the levels of force guns and resource distribution money aimed at people who are governed there are other significant factors such as inclusive governments reconciling with old enemies and the substantial role of international organizations IOs as credible third parties to establish fairness and impartiality within the political process Highashi focuses on an in depth analysis of the challenges involved in creating a legitimate government in Afghanistan focusing on disarmament programs with powerful warlords and the reconciliation efforts with the insurgency especially the Taliban In the conclusion the book also examines three complimentary cases Iraq East Timor and Sierra Leone which consistently support the argument presented earlier This work will be of interest to students and scholars of peacebuilding and conflict resolution as well as international relations more broadly Afghanistan Challenges and Prospects Srinjoy

Bose, Nishank Motwani, William Maley, 2017-07-28 After decades of turmoil a new phase is opening up for Afghanistan in which a new generation comes to the fore as many of the key players from earlier phases including foreign interventionist powers leave the scene Although this new phase offers new possibilities and increased hope for Afghanistan's future the huge problems created in earlier phases remain This book presents a comprehensive overall assessment of the current state of politics and society in Afghanistan outlining the difficulties and discussing the future possibilities Many of the contributors are Afghans or Afghan insiders who are able to put forward a much richer view of the situation than outside foreign observers Popular Governance of Post-Conflict Reconstruction Matthew Saul, 2014-07-24 Under what conditions does a post conflict government have authority What challenges to its legitimacy does it face To what standards can it be held accountable Via case studies of Sierra Leone and Afghanistan and detailed accounts of extant international law Matthew Saul explores the international legal framework which regulates popular governance of post conflict reconstruction

Peacebuilding in the United Nations Fernando Cavalcante, 2019-05-06 This book traces the trajectory and different meanings of the concept of peacebuilding in the United Nations since the early 1990s It analyses how that concept gained life in a particular context and the implications of this process for the Organisation's support to societies affected by armed conflict in general and for peace operations in particular Departing from tenets about the influence of ideas in world politics and engaging with the critique of the liberal peace scholarship the book provides a theoretically informed narrative of how peacebuilding acquired different meanings while remaining largely motivated justified legitimated and informed by a proactive and top down agenda of promoting liberal democratic institutions norms and values as a remedy to the challenges faced by societies affected by armed conflict The book will appeal to scholars policymakers and practitioners in peacebuilding and post conflict development

Transitional Justice in Peacebuilding Djeyhoun Ostowar,2020-11-22

This book explores the role of actors in determining transitional justice in peacebuilding contexts In recent decades transitional justice mechanisms and processes have been introduced to a variety of settings becoming widely regarded as essential elements in the peacebuilding toolbox While it has increasingly been suggested that transitional justice is imposed by neo imperial actors with little regard for the needs and cultures of local populations evidence suggests that dismissing these policies as neo imperial or neo liberal impositions would result in grossly overlooking their dynamics which involve a whole range of relevant actors operating at multiple levels This book interrogates this theme through empirical analysis of three sites of peacebuilding that have seen extensive international involvement Kosovo East Timor and Afghanistan It proposes a novel framework for analysing and approaching transitional justice in peacebuilding that disaggregates three broad sets of actors operating at different levels in relevant processes external actors international and regional levels transitional justice promoters local national international and transnational levels and transitional regimes national and local levels The book argues that transitional justice in peacebuilding must be conceived of as actor contingent and malleable due to the significance of agency and inter actions of key categories of actors throughout peacebuilding transition This book will be of interest to students and practitioners of transitional justice peacebuilding law and International Relations

The Peacebuilding Puzzle Naazneen Barma,2017 Demonstrates how post conflict elites interact with international peacebuilding interventions to construct hybrid political orders over time This title is also available as Open Access

Political Economy of Statebuilding Mats Berdal,2017-07-05 This volume examines and evaluates the impact of international statebuilding interventions on the political economy of post conflict countries over the past 20 years While statebuilding today is typically discussed in the context of peacebuilding and stabilisation operations the current phase of interest in external interventions to re build and strengthen governmental institutions can be traced back to the good governance policies of the International Financial Institutions IFIs in the early 1990s These sought political changes and improvements in the quality of governance in countries that were subject to or were seeking support under IFI designed structural adjustment programmes The focus of this book is specifically on state building efforts in conflict affected countries countries that are emerging or have recently emerged from periods of war and violent conflict The interventions covered in the present volume fall into three broad and overlapping categories International administrations and transformative occupations East Timor Iraq and Kosovo Complex peace operations Afghanistan Burundi Haiti and Sudan Governance and state building programmes conducted in the context of economic assistance Georgia and Macedonia This book will be of much interest to students of statebuilding humanitarian intervention post conflict reconstruction political economy
