"Investigators are the justice systems primary instrument of action

Truth is central to justice

Investigation is an art and a science. Investigators must be able to articulate and critically think.

limitations on	not all crimes are reported, some are reported but not investigated, some are investigated but not prosecuted.
Law	Agent motivation and agency disagreements enforcement	limited resources lack of skills or knowledge

Goals of a criminal investigation/ steps required the primary goal is to SOLVE A CRIME with the purpose of proving or disproving an allegation(s).

to accomplish this the criminal investigator must legally and systematically identify, collect, preserve, and evaluate evidence for the purpose of bringing crime to justice

1. Case Initiation	private sector referral proactive agent development internal agency referrals External agency referral
2. Assessment of Allegation/Information	check the source/victims reliability who has the authority (power to enforce) and jurisdiction (area/location and type of offense) to pursue the allegation agency policy statutory limitations

3. Development of an investigative plan	documents initial allegation and opens the investigation with a written report and management approval this is the "road map" developing a systematic approach to conducting the criminal investigation. Will likely include: case number subjects name potential violations checklist of tasks possible interviews potential problems
4. Conduct the investigation safely	at this stage use appropriate techniques to gather evidence
three basic critical errors are:	-statute of limitations(failure to investigate and refer the case in time -identify health issues in defendant or critical witnesses -failure of evidence to meet the critical elements of proof identifying a probable suspect look for 3 critical elements:	Motive, Means, Opportunity investigative techniques and procedures include	Interviewing, Public records research, Informants, Surveillance, Mail covers ,trash pulls, search and seizure warrants, grand jury subpoenas, digital forensics, undercover operations, crime scene processing, crime lab forensics, storefront operations, financial investigations, asset forfeiture, report writing
