Complex Science For A Complex World Exploring Human Ecosystems With Agents:

Complex Science for a Complex World Pascal Perez, David F. Batten, 2006-08-01 It is well known that human activities are endangering the stability and sustainability of many fragile ecosystems This title looks at the science that addresses the frontiers of interactions between human behavior and environmental responses Transdisciplinary Research and Practice for Sustainability Outcomes Dena Fam, Jane Palmer, Chris Riedy, Cynthia Mitchell, 2016-11-10 Transdisciplinarity is a form of research and practice that synthesises knowledge from a range of academic disciplines and from the community There is now global interest and a significant body of work on transdisciplinarity and its potential to address the apparently intractable problems of society This creates the opportunity for a specific focus on its practical application to sustainability issues Transdisciplinary Research and Practice for Sustainability Outcomes examines the role of transdisciplinarity in the transformations needed for a sustainable world After an historical overview of transdisciplinarity Part I focuses on tools and frameworks to achieve sustainability outcomes in practice and Part II consolidates work by a number of scholars on supporting transdisciplinary researchers and practitioners Part III is a series of case studies including several international examples that demonstrate the challenges and rewards of transdisciplinary work The concluding chapter proposes a future research pathway for understanding the human factors that underpin successful transdisciplinary research As Emeritus Professor Valerie Brown AO notes in her Preface this book moves transdisciplinary inquiry into the academic and social mainstream It will be of great interest to researchers and practitioners in the fields of sustainability qualitative research methods environmental impact assessment and development studies The Economic, Social and Political Elements of Climate Change Walter Leal Filho, 2010-11-23 A unique feature of this book is its strong practice oriented nature it contains a wide range of papers dealing with the social economic and political aspects of climate change exemplifying the diversity of approaches to climate change management taking place all over the world in a way never seen before In addition the book describes a number of projects and other initiatives happening in Africa Asia Europe Latin American and the Australasian region providing a profile of the diversity of works taking place today Sustainability Science Bert de Vries, 2013 This textbook surveys key issues of sustainability energy nature agro food resources economics for advanced undergraduate and graduate level courses Sociocognitive Foundations of Educational Measurement Robert J. Mislevy, 2018-04-09 Several key developments challenge the field of educational measurement today demands for tests at larger scales with higher stakes an improved understanding of how people develop capabilities and new technologies for interactive digital assessments Sociocognitive Foundations of Educational Measurement integrates new developments in educational measurement and educational psychology in order to provide researchers testing professionals and students with an innovative sociocognitive perspective on assessment This comprehensive volume begins with a broad explanation of the sociocognitive perspective and the foundations of assessment then provides a series of focused applications to major topics such as assessment arguments validity fairness interactive assessment and a conception of measurement in educational assessment Classical test theory item response theory categorical models mixture models cognitive diagnosis models and Bayesian networks are explored from the resulting perspective Ideal for specialists in these areas graduate students developers and scholars in both educational measurement and fields that contribute to a sociocognitive perspective this book consolidates nearly a decade of research into a fresh perspective on educational measurement

The Dynamics of Regions and Networks in Industrial Ecosystems Matthias Ruth, Brynhildur Davidsdottir, 2009-01-01 Industrial ecology provides a rigorous and comprehensive description of human production and consumption processes in the larger context of environmental and socioeconomic change This volume offers methodologies for such descriptions with contributions covering both basic and advanced analytical concepts and tools to explore the dynamics of industrial ecosystems concentrating specifically on regions and networks Each of the book's three parts contains an introduction by a leader in the field as well as chapters ranging from conceptual models to case study applications The first part offers an introduction to the main themes and issues surrounding regional and networked industrial ecosystems The subsequent two parts broaden and deepen the discussion with emphasis on the regional and network characters relevant for analysis and management The scale of issues ranges from buildings to regions to entire nations with methods that range from input output analysis to computer assisted simulation games Researchers in the fields of industrial ecology ecological economics environmental and energy policy environmental engineering and resource and environmental economics will find this comprehensive book of great interest

The Oxford Handbook of Higher Education Systems and University Management Gordon Redding, Antony Drew, Stephen Crump, 2019-06-20 The world's systems of higher education HE are caught up in the fourth industrial revolution of the twenty first century Driven by increased globalization demographic expansion in demand for education new information and communications technology and changing cost structures influencing societal expectations and control higher education systems across the globe are adapting to the pressures of this new industrial environment To make sense of the complex changes in the practices and structures of higher education this Handbook sets out a theoretical framework to explain what higher education systems are how they may be compared over time and why comparisons are important in terms of societal progress in an increasingly interconnected world Drawing on insights from over 40 leading international scholars and practitioners the chapters examine the main challenges facing institutions of higher education how they should be managed in changing conditions and the societal implications of different approaches to change Structured around the premise that higher education plays a significant role in ensuring that a society achieves the capacity to adjust itself to change while at the same time remaining cohesive as a social system this Handbook explores how current internal and external forces disturb this balance and how institutions of higher education could and might respond

Simulating Social Complexity Bruce Edmonds, Ruth Meyer, 2017-11-24 This volume examines all aspects of using agent or individual based simulation This approach represents systems as individual elements having their own set of differing states and internal processes The interactions between elements in the simulation represent interactions in the target systems What makes this social is that it can represent an observed society Social systems include all those systems where the components have individual agency but also interact with each other This includes human societies and groups but also increasingly socio technical systems where the internet based devices form the substrate for interaction These systems are central to our lives but are among the most complex known This poses particular problems for those who wish to understand them The complexity often makes analytic approaches infeasible but on the other hand natural language approaches are also inadequate for relating intricate cause and effect This is why individual and agent based computational approaches hold out the possibility of new and deeper understanding of such systems This handbook marks the maturation of this new field It brings together summaries of the best thinking and practices in this area from leading researchers in the field and constitutes a reference point for standards against which future methodological advances can be judged This second edition adds new chapters on different modelling purposes and applying software engineering methods to simulation development Revised existing content will keep the book up to date with recent developments This volume will help those new to the field avoid reinventing the wheel each time and give them a solid and wide grounding in the essential issues It will also help those already in the field by providing accessible overviews of current thought The material is divided into four sections Introduction Methodology Mechanisms and Applications Each chapter starts with a very brief section called Why read this chapter followed by an abstract which summarizes the content of the chapter Each chapter also ends with a section on Further Reading Whilst sometimes covering technical aspects this second edition of Simulating Social Complexity is designed to be accessible to a wide range of researchers including both those from the social sciences as well as those with a more formal background It will be of use as a standard reference text in the field and also be suitable for graduate level courses

Geospatial Applications for Climate Adaptation Planning Diana Mitsova, Ann-Margaret Esnard, 2018-12-07 Climate adaptation is a timely yet complex topic that does not fit squarely into any one disciplinary realm Geospatial Applications for Climate Adaptation Planning presents an overview of the range of strategies tools and techniques that must be used to assess myriad overlapping vulnerabilities and to formulate appropriate climate relevant solutions at multiple scales and in varying contexts Organized into four sections the book includes 15 chapters Each chapter is grounded in the literature and presents case studies designed by the authors as well as many examples from a diverse international group of scholars and entities in the public and private sectors Areas covered include Climate Change and Climate Adaptation Planning Context and Concepts Geospatial Technologies Fundamentals and Terminology GIS and Climate Vulnerability Assessments Technical Approaches to Formulating Mitigation and Adaptation Strategies Geospatial Applications for Climate Adaptation Planning is aimed at advanced students researchers and entities in the public and private sectors It also provides supplementary reading for courses in planning public administration policy studies and disaster management Multi-Agent-Based Simulation X Gennaro Di Tosto, H. Van Dyke Parunak, 2010-06-17 This volume contains a selection of the papers presented at the 10th International Workshop on Multi Agent Based Simulation MABS 2009 a workshop co located with the 8th International Conference on Autonomous Agents and Multiagent Systems AAMAS 2009 which was held on May 10 15 2009 in Budapest Hungary
